

QUALITY

a reputation for

Since 1960, CPC has been dedicated to providing behavioral health and education services that promote wellness, recovery and productive lives. Today, our Joint Commission accredited non-profit agency provides these services to over 7,000 individuals through Outpatient Mental Health & Addiction Recovery Services, Residential Services, and a K-12 Special Education School.

Once again, CPC's forward-thinking culture has created a growth opportunity for mental health consumers to learn job skills, work in a real-world setting, and participate in meaningful work. CPC Screen Printing has a unique workforce including adults with developmental or psychiatric disabilities, graduates from CPC's High Point School and adults in CPC's Supported Employment Program.

Unlike many silk screen businesses, CPC Screen Printing is a socially responsible business enterprise. Because of this, we are able to provide the highest quality product at the lowest price to you.

Together, helping hands, help one another.
